

ADMINISTRATIVE DOCUMENTS

Administrative document is a document created, received or maintained by a court that serves to record the administrative fiscal, personnel or management functions, operations organization or other activities of the court, subject to the exclusions. The first deals with administrative documents that are most commonly used in the public administration such as an invitation to tender (2) agreements, resolutions, letters, sworn statements, official invitation and so forth.

1. Nominal roll; is a document that contains vital information of every staff in office.
2. Calendar of events; a calendar is the order that divides a year into days, weeks and months.
Calendar of events means the list of events and dates these are scheduled to take place each year.

PURPOSE OF CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- a. Calendar are useful tools for keeping track of upcoming meetings, deadlines and milestones.
- b. They can help you visualize your schedule and remind you of important events, such as holidays and vacation time.

YEAR PLANNER

Year planner is a soft ware program or a large document put on a wall, showing the days, weeks and months of the year, which you use to plan your activities.